NOTES:

I am indebted to many people on the information and content of this genealogy. Henry Jamison's family and descendants are many, spanning the centuries as well as the miles across the gulfs of time and the vast regions of the United States. While I have researched a great deal of this myself, there are those whose names I must recite in order to give credit to all: Charles V. Jamison Sr. of Royalton, Ohio; Ruth Jamison of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma(deceased) <sup>*(1)</sup>; Chris Garst of Webber, Kansas; Lurene Claycamp of Soldier, Kansas; Joseph Cotton of Valley City, Utah; and Milo J. Cumpston of Fayetteville, Arkansas. These people I have mentioned in passing for their contributions to this rapidly and prolifically growing family. While some have provided more material than others each has added invaluable to the store of genealogical lore. A special and huge note of thanks goes to Charlie Jamison of Roylaton, OH. whose hard work and dedication to turning over so many stones on his family has provided much of the material for the generations of Jamisons out in Greene co., PA and Monongalia county, WV. His dedication, exceptionally positive attitude, and hard work has brought about a history that displays the very characters of his own family.

HENRY JAMISON OF BUCKS COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA

26500-1 HENRY JAMISON [William?], was born circa 1674-1679, (Leith, Scotland?). He married circa 1695, Jane _____;

Children:

- (1) 26510 Henry, b.c. 1696; d. 1765{1776}; m.c. 1726, Mary Stewart;
- (2) 26511 Robert, b. 1698; d. 7/3/1771; m. 1728, Jean Blackburn;
- (3) 26512 Alexander, b. 1700; d. 3/1749; m. 11/30/1727, Martha Rickey.
- (4) 26513 Ann, m. William Miller Jr.

Notes:

Mr. Jamison emigrated from Leith, Midlothian, Scotland at an early age to Ulster, Ireland[1]. Whether he came in company with his parents or with others is unknown, presently. Tradition apparently tells us also that Henry was the son of William Jamison, "a rigid Presbyterian, and a zealous supporter of the "Solemn League and Covenant". Taking his family he left Scotland in 1685 and settled in Omagh, County Tyrone, Ireland, though this appears to negate additional information from Rev. Jameson's book that states, "They were of Scotch descent; their ancestors were of a colony from Argyleshire, Scotland, who crossed over and settled in the north of Ireland"[1]. E. O. Jameson also comments that William Jameson was at the seige of Londonderry and “served with such gallantry that subsequently he was freed from all taxation by order of King William” [1]. Tradition, based on Rev. Jameson’s book and the information he has concerning William Jamison is provided in the tree below.

Mr. Jamison with his wife, Jane, and children, Robert, Henry, Alexander, and Ann and her husband, William Miller Jr., emigrated some time between 1718-1722 to Philadelphia. While no emigration records record this fact, circumstances such as the emigration of his brothers (2), William and John Jamison to Boston in 1718, along with Robert Jamison showing up the following year in Ipswich, MA., bear an influence as to when Henry Jamison may have come over. Certainly, the traditional 1708 or after is no where near correct and the purchasing of land in 1724 would conclude more adequately that the 1718-1720 time period be more precise. On June 6, 1724, Henry and wife, Jane, were communicants of the Presbyterian church at Abbington, Bucks co., PA[2]. This information was also recorded at the Dutch Reformed Church in Bensalem, Bucks co., PA[3] and may have been so recorded because of a lack of a place for whorship in Warwick at the time. In the same year Jamison purchased a thousand acres of land half of which lay in Northampton and the other in Warwick from Jeremiah Langhorne February 27, 1724. This acreage was part of 5,000 acres which Penn’s commissioners conveyed to Benjamin Hurley Sept. 13, 1703 and he in turned sold it to another and has passed down to Henry Jamison. He also purchased May 7, 1728 from Jeremiah Langhorne 200 acres of land which he willed to his son, Henry Jamison Jr. in 1734. Three years later he became one of the founders and trustees of “Neshaminy” Presbyterian Church, taken from an Indian word meaning, “at the double drinking place”. The first Minister was a converted Anglican (Episcopal) by the name, William Tennent, who with his wife, Catherine nee Kennedy, emigrated in 1718 from Scotland to Philadelphia and made his way to Bensalem, Bucks county in 1726. The following year Rev. Tennent traveled three miles up the Neshaminy Creek to the forks where about 200 souls had settled. On February 13, 1733 the town of Middlebury was established by the congregation, signed by seventeen of its foremost men, three of whom were Robert, Henry, and Alexander Jamison. In 1736 the town’s name by petition was changed to Warwick, Pa. In a land deed dated 1734, Henry Jamison Sr. conveyed his Bucks county home to his sons, Robert receiving 250 acres and the homestead, and the balanced divided equally among the others. Robert Jamison accompanied his father, Henry, to Ireland, but returned without his father the following year.

The surname is sometimes spelt: Jemyson; Jemison; Jameson.

- (10) 26529 John, b.c. 1750; m. 5/4/1775, Catherine Osborne[1,2];

Notes:

Henry Jamison received from his father's will 200 acres of land January 7, 1734, which he conveyed to his son, Robert Jamison in 1765. In 1759 he was listed on the Warwick tax rolls for 8 sheep at 33 shillings. A prominent man in the community and large land owner he made his will April 18, 1765 in which he writes about his being about to incur "...the danger of the seas..." sailing to Florida soon after and was never heard from again. His will was probated April 14, 1766, and he was assumed "lost at sea".

Mary Stewart was a sister of John Stewart, who, in conjunction with Henry Jamison Jr. purchase considerable land in Warwick.

- (6) 26537 Isabel, b. 1745; res. Warwick, Pa.

Notes:

Robert Jamison in 1734 sailed to Tyrone Co., Ireland with his father, Henry, just after his father bequeath to him 250 acres in Warwick, PA. He returned to Bucks county, Pennsylvania, though a record comes to light in which "Robert Jamison witnessed a Power of Attorney by William Witherington of Kilcaddy, parish of Clogher, County of Tyrone, Ireland" dated August 6, 1743. This instrument was made before John Rennick, a notary public and proved March 16, 1744 by Jamison in Bucks co., PA[5]. It is unknown to what this applied, though possibly made in order to effectively handle his father's affairs in that country at his death which may have occurred about 1743. Mr. Jamison was taxed in Warwick in 1759 at the rate of 12 shillings for 3 sheep. In 1760 he is listed with 2 horses, 6 cattle, 10 sheep and 1 household servant at the rate of 3 pounds, 16 shillings, and 8 pence.

Robert Jamison was intimately involved with his community. He served as overseer of the roads in Warwick, as an Elder in the Neshaminy Presbyterian Church, and as a Captain in the colonial militia.

Notes:

Captain Henry Darrah was the son of Thomas and Mary Darrah, an Irish-Scotchman, emigrated to the America in 1725 settling at Neshaminy Valley in Bucks co., Pa. His father, Thomas, was the founder of Log College, which later became the College of New Jersey, and finally named Princeton University. He was also the founder of the Neshaminy Presbyterian Church of Warwick, PA. and of Deep Run Presbyterian Church in Bedminster, PA. Mr. Thomas Darrah died in March of 1750 leaving five sons who were all involved with the colonial side during the American Revolution. Capt. Darrah was educated and a fine horseman. Family tradition indicates that Henry Jamison was completely against the marriage of his daughter, Ann, saying "that young Darrah was too fond of fast horses and not fond enough of making a living tilling the soil"*(3). The matter apparently was settled when Henry and Ann got on one of the horses and outrode her pursuing father. They resided in New Britain township where in 1775 Mr. Darrah was appointed an Associator. In the following year he was appointed 1st Lt. of Captain William Robert's Company and on organizing of the "Flying Camp" appointed in 1776 by the bucks county Committee of Safety, later serving in the New Jersey and Long Island campaigns. Commissioned a Captain on May 6, 1777 he served variously under Colonels John Lacey and William Roberts.

- James Darrah, eldest son of Henry and Ann Darrah purchased in 1789 170 acres of the homestead tract in New Britain. He bought in 1794 his wife's sister's homestead in Warminster, near Hartsville, and settled there for the remainder of his life. When he died he was buried at Neshaminy church, bucks co., PA. He was a trustee of the church in 1795; treasurer from 1812-14; and collector of pew rents, 1807. His wife, Rachel Henderson, was born July 27, 1762, Warminster, PA., was a daughter of Robert and Margaret (Archibald) Henderson, both of Scots-Irish lineages. Mrs. Darrah died March 17, 1802 and Mr. James Darrah married Rebecca McCrea. Two children only from his first wife, Rachel, were Robert and Henry Darrah.

- Robert Darrah, son of James and Rachel (Henderson) Darrah, was born February 8, 1789, New Britain, Bucks co., PA. He died August 5, 1860. Served in the War of 1812 under Captain Joseph Vandyck's company in the 48th Regiment, Volunteer Artillery. He married September 4, 1819, Catherine Galt(Gault) born 1/26/1799, Salisbury, Lancaster co., PA., died 1890, Warminster, PA., the daughter of James and Mary (Martin) Galt, a great-great-grand daughter of Robert Galt, who, reportedly, was the first white man to settle in the Pequea Valley of Lancaster county. Mr. Darrah inherited his father's estate in Warminster(the old Henderson plantation) which he improved considerably. They had nine children: Rev. James Darrah, Princeton, 1840, Bucks county bar, 1843, and Yale College, 1846, was pastor of the Philadelphia Pa., Presbyterian Church and at St. Louis Presbyterian, Missouri; John M. Darrah, hartsville, PA; Robert Henderson Darrah, Warminster, PA; Rachel H. Darrah and Rebecca Darrah, both of whom were successively wives of Rev. Douglass K. Turner, pastor of Neshaminy Church and author of the History of the Neshaminy church; Eliza M.; Emily; Mary A.; and Katherine.

- Margaret Darrah, m. Jobs Wright; daughter, Hester Ann, wife of John Wilkens Flenniken; son, Andrew Stewart Flenniken.

Notes:

Mr. Jamison was listed in the Warwick tax lists for 1759 and 60. In 1759 he was listed under his father's household and in 1760 was taxed at 8 pounds, 8 shillings for his grist mill which stood on 48 acres of land with a rent of 14 pounds per annum, 3 horses, 3 cattle, and 8 sheep.

Mr. Jamison was the executor of his father's will, 1766. After administering his father's will he sold the estate he inherited in 1777 and removed to Middletown, Dauphin county, PA. Here he purchased March 6, 1778, a house and two lots from Albright Swinefind and sold them February 22, 1779 for 600 pounds to brothers, William and Thomas Crabb. In that year he went further west and settled in Georges township, Fayette co., PA. In Georges he secured a patent on 277 and a half acres of land on a fork of woods laying between Union township and Cheat River, but this he sold and settled in Dunkard township, Greene county, PA. where he died. Alexander Jamison was a member of the Associated Company of Warwick and later in the militia during the Revolution along with his brother, William Jamison.

His will was dated May 23, 1807 and probated August 26, 1812. He mentioned wife, Isabella, and children: William, Henry, Rebecka, Eleanor, Anne, Mary, and Martha; executors: sons, Henry and William Jamison; witnesses: John Flenniken, deceased, and Josias Lowery.

- Henry Jamison was born in November of 1766, Bucks co., PA. He died April 12, 1834, Cumberland, Greene co., PA. He may never have been married because his will, dated April 5, 1833 and probated May 14, 1834, names his immediate family only. He mentions sisters, Mary Jamison, Rebecca Jamison, Helen{Eleanor} Davis, Martha Stephenson, and Ann Scudder as heirs. He also names his father, Alexander Jamison, and brother, William Jamison, nephew, Henry Jamison, and neice, Mary Jamison. Executor was

Notes:

Mr. Jamison received ten shillings from his father's will, dated April 18, 1765, and proved April 14, 1766. However, William appears to have had a loan from his father since 60 pounds were to be returned to his brother, John Jamison. Mr. Jamison, like his brother, Alexander, was a member of the Associated Company of Warwick and later a part of the Bucks county militia. Mr. Jamison may have left Warwick, PA. near the same time as his brother, Alexander Jamison, but not after 1783, when his first child, John Jamison, was born on August 12, 1783, in Greene co., Pa. out on the western frontier. He received a land patent of 420 acres in Dunkard, PA. for 120 pounds as follows:

Notes:

Mr. Jamison moved west with his brothers, Alexander and William some time about 1785. He located on a 217 acre tract which was later warranted February 8, 1796, surveyed April 28, 1796, and patented April 24, 1797. It was called the "Hartford" plot situated in Independence Township, Washington County, PA.

26532-3 HENRY JAMISON [Robert, Henry], was born 1729, Warwick, Bucks co., PA., the son and first child of Robert and Jean (Blackburn) Jamison (26511). He died June 29{30}, 1767[11,1], Bucks co., PA. Mr. Jamison married circa early 1760s, Mary Caldwell Gregg, died March of 1785, Philadelphia, PA., the daughter of John[14] and Sarah (Caldwell) Gregg.

Children:

(Born in Bucks co., PA.)

(1) 26650 Martha, b.c. 1762; d. 1806; m. 1777, Rev. Nathaniel Irwin;

(2) 26651 John, b.c. 1765; d. after 1785;

(3) 26652 William Caldwell, b. 5/16/1767; d. 8/23/1821; m. .1) 6/18/1794, Jane Downs; m.2) 5/10/1801, Eleanor Shelby;

Notes:

Mr. Jamison was an Innkeeper and resided in Centerville, Buckingham where he purchased 167 acres[14] of land at the junction of Durham and York roads. This land was purchased from John Gregg(of New Jersey and bought by him 9/14/1767), Mrs. Jamison's father, and later sold by her administrator on September 3, 1790. A road was opened in 1759 from Jamison's mill, located on the southwest branch of Neshaminy Creek to the York road from which travelers headed from or to Philadelphia from or to Delaware. Mr. Jamison was listed in 1764 on the tax list for Buckingham. From the History of Bucks Co., Pa. The Safety Committee for the county held their meetings here, between 1772 and 1778, shortly after Mr. Jamison's death. Mrs. Jamison was listed on the assessor's list as innkeeper in 1772 just before her marriage to John Bogart.

Mrs. Jamison married second, November 14, 1772, First Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, PA., John Bogart[2,3]. Mr. Bogart, after his marriage to Mary Jamison, ran the tavern & inn in Buckingham until 1778 when he died. Mrs. Bogart removed with her family to Philadelphia until her death in 1785. Her will was dated March 7, 1785, Philadelphia, PA. and proved March 15th, eight days later. In the will she bequeathed everything to her five children: Mary Bogart, Sarah Bogart, Frances Bogart, John Jamison, and William Caldwell Jamison. Martha Jamison, Mrs. Bogart left out completely and the reasons for that are provided under her history.

The foregoing genealogy is different than that described under Rev. Jameson's book, The Jamesons In America. In the 1901 publication William Caldwell Jamison was listed as a son of John and Miss Caldwell Jamison of Little Britain, Lancaster co., PA. This man was born May 11, 1776 and listed in the above reference as having married Jane Downs in 1894 *(6), which is incorrect based on the will and administration of Mary Gregg Jamison Bogart. A further elucidation on the subject is given in the will of William C. Jamison, dated October 22, 1818, Montgomery co., TN., "Anything due me on account of my part of the estate, real or personal, of my mother's estate, Mrs. Mary Bogart, deceased, of the City of Philadelphia...". Mrs. Jamison was the administrator of Henry Jamison's estate on August 14, 1767, and she retained the inn at Buckingham. When John Bogart died in 1778, Mrs. Bogart maintained the land and premises which were later sold in 1790 by her administrator[14]. John Greer was appointed guardian of Sarah Bogart, her daughter, born 1776, Bucks co., PA. Mary Bogart married James Grier and Frances Bogart married John Shaw. Mrs. Bogart named James Greer and William Oliphant as executors.

Notes:

John Jamison was a Captain in the Revolutionary War[6,1]. He writes, "Capt. John Jamison in Col. Baxter's Penn. Regiment, commissioned Sept. 7, 1776; taken prisoner at Fort Washington, Nov. 16, 1776, and released on parole Aug., 1778; exchanged March 26, 1781." [6] However, other records claim differently. According to the DAR records the following is listed: "John Jameson, b. 1736; d. 3/27/1796; m. Martha Grier, PS-PA". This listing indicates that Mr. Jamison was in a capacity in which he supplied the colonial militia with various products rather than actually engaged in military conduct. There were many such farmers as John Jamison who provided much needed materials, clothes, and foodstuffs for the militia and several records throughout this publication provide ample illustration of this.

There is, however, another listing for a John Jamison of Bucks county, PA. who married Nancy McDuffy. This listing reads: "John Jameson, b. 12/3/1755; d. 3/23/1836; m. Nancy McDuffy, Capt.-PA". Captain Jamison was a son of Daniel and Mary (Baxter) Jamison Sr. of Nockamixon, Bucks co., PA. Col. Hugh Baxter's company, which Capt. John Jamison was listed under, was his grandfather whose daughter, Mary Baxter, was John Jamison's mother. The troubles which plagued Capt. Jamison are captured in his profile under index #26013.

Mr. John Jamison, our subject, was listed under the 1759 tax records for Bucks co., PA. with 3 horses, 5 cattle, 27 sheep, 250 acres of land, receiving rents of $20.00, and 1 negroe at a rate of 5 pounds 8 shillings[4]. He was again listed in Warwick, 1778[4] as follows: 2 horses, 2 cattle, 3 sheep, 70 acres of land at $5.00 rent, for 2 pounds 3 shillings[1]. Tax lists, Warwick, 1778, 5 pounds. Mr. Jamison owned considerable land and inherited the old homestead. Mrs. Jamison was a brother of Rev. James Grier of Deep Run, PA., a revolutionary veteran and an Elder in the Presbyterian Church at Neshaminy.

26542-3 ROBERT JAMISON [Alexander, Henry], was born 1734, Warwick, Bucks co., PA., the son and third child of Alexander and Martha (Rickey) Jamison (26512). He died 1800 in Hardy Co., West Virginia<sup>(7)</sup>. Mr. Jamison married prior to 1760, in Bucks co., PA. Mary Vastine, born 1730 in Hilltown, Bucks co., PA., died September 9{June 13}[1], 1798, PA., the daughter of Abraham and Sarah (Ruckman) Vastine{Van de Woestyne}. They resided in York co., PA., Frederick and Loudon counties, VA.

- (6) 26691 Martha, b.c. 1766/7; m. Dr. James Pliney Wilson; res. Society Hill, Darlington, SC.

Notes:

Mr. Jamison inherited his father's farm with the conditions of paying off the mortgage and paying his younger brother, Alexander, 100 pounds. Yet the conditions and the poor harvests probably weighed against the young man and the Jamisons lost the farm in 1765. Mr. Jamison, no doubt, resided with relatives, possibly the Van de Vastines, his in-laws. Mr. Jamison later was employed as overseer of roads in Warwick. It was shortly after this that Mr. Jamison migrated from Pennsylvania to Virginia appearing as early as 1768 in Loudon co., VA. He was on the tax lists for Shelburne Parish, Loudon co., Va. from 1768 to as late as 1778, along with the following men:

Robert Jameson 1768-70, 1771-78, Shelburne Parish

Benjamin Jameson 1769-70, 1771-75, 1779 Shelburne

Alexander Jameson 1776-77, Shelburne

George Jameson 1776-77, Shelburne

John Jameson 1779, Shelburne

William Jameson 1789, Shelburne.

He appears to have moved again, about seven years later in 1785 to Shenandoah co., VA. which sat next to Hardy co., WV in the Cedar Creek area where the Frye family settled. At the end he dies in Hardy co., WV. The Shelburne Parish list provides yet another thought. The Jamisons-John, William, and Alexander-were no doubt the brothers of Robert Jamison. Another interesting point is the list of last dates on these men: Robert Jamison 1778; Benjamin Jamison, 1779; Alexander and George Jamison, 1777; John Jamison in 1779, and finally William Jamison in 1789. Benjamin Jameson is the Jameson Indexed as #35000, who migrated south to Greene co., TN. Benjamin names one son, Robert.

Located in the extreme north of Shenandoah co., VA., in 1785, this spot roughly sits just south of Cedar Creek and Cacapone River and Wheatfield, an area where Shenandoah and Frederick co., VA., and Hardy co., WV. meet. Robert Jamison was listed with nine people in the 1785 tax list. Along with Jamison were John Colville, Benjamin Frye, John Frye, and John Frye's son, Jacob Frye. In 1800 when Jamison died, John Colville and James Wilson were both buyers at the estate auction.

Notes:

Mr. Jamison's father, William, left Bucks co., PA. and was settled in Greene co.,PA. when John was born in 1783 out at the western frontier. When he was old enough to be out on his own, Mr. John Jamison resided first in Davis, Fayette co., and later Waynesburg, Greene co., PA. The tract called "Chester" he inherited he sold May 7, 1806 to Joseph Morris for $100.00 97.75 acres. He purchased from Joseph and Lydia Cravens 51 acres for $200.00 on January 6, 1812, a tract known as Mount Joy, located on Meadow Run. The land bordered those properties of his father, William Jamison, Jacob Fast, and Kyance Phillips. On March 23, 1832, Mr. and Mrs. Jamison sold to Edward Bussey, 61.5 acres for $330.00. This land was situated on Meadow Run adjoining Edward Bussey, John Jamison(himself), Peter Myers, and Widow Phillips, part of two surveys which Jamison purchased from Joseph Cravens on January 6, 1812, Greene co., PA. Witnesses were Benjamin F. Long and David Taylor. On May 20, 1851, he sold to Jesse Bussey a 202 acre tract on Meadow Run for $4200.00. This plot adjoined the Jamison Schoolhouse lot and Pierce Lynch. Other Jamison deeds:

26650-4 MARTHA JAMISON [Henry, Robert, Henry], was born about 1762, Centerville, Bucks co., PA. the daughter and first(?) child of Henry and Mary (Gregg) Jamison (26532). She died 1806, Chester co., PA. Miss Jamison married 1777, Centerville, Bucks co., PA., Rev. Nathaniel Irwin, born November 18, 1746, Chester co., PA., and died March 3, 1812, Bucks co., PA.

Children:

(Born Bucks co., PA.)

(1) Henry, b. 1780; d. 2/7/1812; m. Mary Ann Walker;

(2) Mary, b.c. 1781; d. 9/28/1802; m. Dr. William Hart;

Notes:

In 1774, Rev. Nathaniel Irwin was called to the pulpit and became the new pastor at Neshaminy church when Charles Beatty died two years before. His family came out of Chester co., PA. where he was born and was Scotch-Irish. Having graduated Princeton, Mr. Irwin along with James Madison had helped found the American Whig Party in an upper room of Nassau Hall. He preached along the thinly-inhabited central Pennsylvania and Virginia areas before coming to Bucks county. Nathaniel Irwin had a “commanding appearance, a powerful voice, and a long, intelligent face.” In Neshaminy which he took with enthusiasm and vigor Mr. Irwin was also a prescriber of medicine, handled wills, settled estates, advised widows, and assisted in property transfer. Residing on a large farm on Easton Road he sold produce as well.

His interests in mechanics fashioned an idea that became the boom to boating. One of his listeners at the time was John Fitch, who walking home from church in April of 1785, got the idea that steam might be used as a propelling force. Making some rough drafts he brought them to Irwin, who intrigued, showed Fitch several books he had on the topic. With insight and ability John Fitch then invented the first model steamboat and when he wrote his autobiography dedicated it to Nathaniel Irwin.

Colonial patriots the Irwins thundered out against the British and made many enemies of the loyalists. In August of 1777 Washington crossed the Delaware and with 11,000 troops marching behind him pitched his tent not a half mile from the Neshaminy church. Tradition states that the “Stars and Stripes” was displayed for the first time at this camp overlooking the Neshaminy Creek. Irwin and Washington appeared to have establish some rapport as the church was used as a hospital and some of the soldiers who fell ill and died were buried in the cemetery there. Washington remained encamped here for 13 days before marching off to the Bradnywine.

The following spring the British were in Philadelphia. Washington had left General Lacey and 400 raw recruits sitting two miles away from the church when they were surprised at dawn of May 1, 1778. The Battle of Crooked Billet as it was called rallied the congregation to a fever pitch as they aided the revolutionary cause in one way or another. After the war and despite wartime interruptions and financial crises, the Presbyterian congregation grew, “largely to Irwin’s popularity.”

A popular minister, Rev. Irwin was plagued by domestic problems. His only son was an alcoholic and his wife’s infidelity was the talk of the neighborhood. Apparently Martha’s trappings had become so legendary that in August, 1781 Erkuries Beatty wrote his brother near York town, a letter which comments, “The Parson has outgeneral’d his wife at last, and caught her...” Mrs. Irwin died in 1806 and the Pastor married 1807, Priscilla McKinstry, died August 3, 1822, Ohio, a “most discreet and sensible helpmeet”. Ever was there a more compelling reason why Mary Gregg Jamison Bogart, Martha's mother, left her daughter out of the will?

Ever interested in everything that he perused Rev. Irwin was instrumental in moving the county seat from Newtown to Doylestown. He played an important part in establishing the county's almshouse and performing the first marriage of an elderly black couple there. Music, the backbone of contention in the early 1780s, gave way to livelier tunes which better suited the mood of the congregation and the general populace at large. Rev. Irwin promoted this theme and in 1788 he organized a concert which was especially newsworthy and reported in the Pennsylvania Gazette. He also introduced Watt's hymns in place of Rouse's versions of the Psalms of David and so upset one man that he stormed out to the tavern at Warrington and ordered a "gill o'rum to quench his disgust."

Notes:

Mr. Jamison was a contemporary and cousin(once removed) of Van De Vastine Jamison (#26690) and no doubt accompanied his cousin to Orangeburgh, South Carolina. Along with them may have been Van de Vastine's uncle, Henry Jamison, who might also have settled in South Carolina(see Van De Vastine Jamison (26690)). They probably arrived some time about 1785, Mr. Jamison staying with Van de Vastine for a short period before moving on. In a land deed dated June 4, 1786, Savannah, Chatham co., Oliver Bowen of Savannah sold a tract of land in Effingham co., GA. to James Belcher of Savannah. Witness: William C. Jamison of Savannah. Mr. Jamison engaged in the real estate business out of Savannah for a number of years for his firm was involved with several transactions in the area and northward as well. On April 13, 1794, James R. Whitney, tax collector for Franklin co., GA., sold to Thomas Harwood of Lower Marlboro, Maryland, 1000 acres in Franklin county situated on the middle fork of the Oconee River, southwest side adjoining land of Porter, Gibson, and Jamason, a tract surveyed for William C. Jamison and Company on July 9, 1790. There is finally a deed which dated August 9, 1794 puts Jamison in Wilkes county, GA. when Benjamin May of Wilkes co., Ga., sells to William Wallace of Edgefield co., SC 150 acres in Edgefield county, SC *(13) on the Savannah River, a tract granted Richard Kennedy December 1, 1772. The witness to the subscribing deed was William C. Jamison of Wilkes county, GA. By 1794 Jamison was in Wilkes county having married Jane Downs a month and a half earlier.

The Downs Family was led by William Downs of Scotland, who emigrated some time in the early 1700s. He settled in Orange co., VA. Mr. Henry Downs, his son, d. 1778, SC., married Jane Douglass, and resided in Virginia before moving to Laurens co., SC. The children of this marriage were: Henry, William, Richard, Joseph, Jonathan, George, Ambrose, Elizabeth, and Eleanor. Henry's son, William Downs, was born in 1730, Orange co., VA. and died January 12, 1802, Clarksville, TN. He married Phoebe Hogue, who died between 1773-75, South Carolina. The children were: Henry, Jonathan, Joseph, Hiram, William, George, Elizabeth, Polly, Sarah, Zilpah, and Jane, who married William C. Jamison. Mr. William Downs removed in 1758 to Laurens co., SC. He joined in 1775 the Colonial Army as Adjutant Colonel of the 2nd Regiment, but in 1778 gave his commission to his brother, Joseph Downs, and left to settle in Wilkes co., GA. Here Mr. Downs was in the Battle of Kettle Creek and became a very wealthy landowner and prominent citizen in Georgia. An influential business man Mr. Downs ventured as one of the major stockholders in the Tennessee Land Company along with John Sevier, who was Governor of Tennessee from its inception in 1796. In a land trip he made with Sevier in 1802, Mr. Downs died while scouting the bend of the Tennessee River.

Mr. Jamison appears to have left Georgia at the end of the 1790s, for in 1798 he is listed on a tax list for Montgomery co., TN and in a January 1, 1799 land deed he is recorded as purchasing from Morgan Brown a lot in Palmyra, Montgomery co., TN. He does not show up in the 1790 Reconstructed Census for GA or in 1800, and the earliest census records for Tennessee show that he was listed in the 1820 census, the year before his death. In 1800 William Jamison became the first County Court Clerk for Montgomery county, TN. He was appointed for several more terms after that. In an 1806 deed from John Shelby a bill of sale recorded the selling of one negroe to William C. Jamison and witnessed by Thomas Shelby. In that same year he was granted a petition from which he was allowed to keep a flatbottom boat in Clarksville for the purpose of ferrying his family and stock across the Cumberland. He had land on both sides of the river.

Mr. Jamison's will was dated October 2, 1818 and probated August of 1821. He mentions children Mary, Henry, William, John, David, Isaac, Sarah, Charlotte, Elizabeth, James, and Albert. Executors were: David Shelby, Dr. John Shelby, and G. W. L. Marr. Mrs. Eleanor Jamison's will was dated October 24, 1834 and probated May 7, 1835. She mentions children, James, Albert, William, and David Jamison.

Notes:

Dr. Jamison, a practicing physician in Orangeburgh, South Carolina, probably arrived in South Carolina some time about 1785 in company with his cousin, William Caldwell Jamison (#26652). A land deed in Georgia place W. C. Jamison there in 1786, while the 1790 SC census places Van de Vastine there at that time. With them was probably Henry Jamison, Jamison's uncle, whose records pop up in and around Orangeburgh, SC and in Georgia. What schooling and education Mr. Jamison received is unknown, though it must have been considerable and Jamison must have been accomplished in of himself to have been as successful as he was. He was entirely caught up with his community, largely interested in agriculture, and politically and commercially motivated. He represented Orangeburgh District in the state legislature from 1806-08 and 1818-1820 and operated a lime kiln near the village where he resided.

Colonel Jacob Rumph was born July 9, 1752, Orangeburgh, SC. the son of Jacob Rumph, who emigrated circa 1735 with the Rev. John Ulrick Giessendanner and company. The families that came with the Minister were all from or from nearby the village of Canton, Switzerland. Col. Jacob Rumph while in the colonies acquired hundreds of thousands of acres of land throughout the Carolinas and Georgia. One land deed alone recorded 281,097 acres and he had over 50 grants of land. Colonel Rumph was promoted to General of the South Carolina militia and was involved during the American Revolution. A brother, David Rumph, was selected January 15, 1775, by the first Provincial Congress of SC for carrying into execution the Continental Association for St. George's Parish in Dorchester. The Rumphs have distinguished themselves throughout American history in military service and in agriculture. General Rumph died December 12, 1812, SC. Mrs. Anne Rumph died September 30, 1835. They had the following children:

John, b. 8/1/1775; d. 12/13/1856;

Jacob, b. 8/20/1777; d. 9/11/1812; Methodist Minister;

David, b. 10/28/1778; d. 1/7/1835; m. 5/10/1808, Elizabeth Carmichael, born 6/8/1786, d. 11/17/1847, daughter of James and Catherine Carmichael; resided St. Matthews, SC. and are buried at the Rumph Burying Grounds in Orangeburgh.

Children:

(a) Julius David, b. 3/10/1809; d. 10/8/1809;

(b) David Jamison, b. 1/17/1811; d. 4/27/1872; m. 12/27/1858, Mary Chevilletta Rowe;

Notes:

Little can be added to what has already been applied to Mr. Jamison. Research shows he was in the War of 1812. He was born in Savannah, Georgia in 1795 and was four years old when his parents took him along with his brother and sister to Montgomery co., Tennessee in 1799. He grew up on his father's farm across the river from Clarksville, TN. He was a talented kid with a flair for business and religion. He was well-liked and honored for his many devotions and attentions to civic and church affairs. A man of the earth by birth and upbringing Mr. Jamison prospered as a farmer on a well tended and growing farm while excelling in the business of building roads in Tennessee.

He removed in 1816 to Murfreesborough, Rutherford co., TN after his stint in the military service. In Murfreesboro he established a large farm and flourished in his road contracts and was married there in 1819 to Elizabeth Beatty. Miss Beatty was a daughter of Captain William (b. 5/1/1760; d. 6/11/1835) and Ann (Bass) (b. 8/23/1773; d. 3/1854) Beatty of Murfreesboro, Rutherford co., TN. Commissioned by Patrick Henry of the 2nd Brunswick county Company he was engaged during the Revolutionary War. When it was over he removed to Tennessee in 1808 and settled on a 600 acre tract granted him for military services. Mrs. Jamison died in 1835, Murfreesboro, TN. and Henry Jamison married secondly to Sarah W. Thomas, a daughter of William (b. 7/10/1772; d. 4/7/1841) and Eliza (Bass)(b. 2/10/1790) Thomas. Eliza and Annie Bass were daughters of John Bass of Brunswick county, Virginia.

Jamison left Murfreesboro right after his wife's death, settling about 8 miles southwest of that town. Under the North Carolina land Grants, Henry D. Jamison was listed as acquiring 22 acres in Rutherford co., TN on November 16, 1836. He remained upon this farm until the time of his death. Mrs. Jamison remarried after Henry's death. She was wedded December 5, 1875, Dallas, TX. to John L. Cooper, born November 20, 1807 and died 1895. Mr. Jamison's will was dated June 30, 1856 and probated April of 1859, Rutherford county, TN. He names as executors: William C. Jamison, son; Robert S. Thomas, brother-in-law; and Sarah W.

Jamison, wife. Witnesses were: John Woody, James M. King, and J. B. Kimbro. \(16\)

The 1850 Census shows the following:

916-425 Henry D. Jamison, 55, Georgia; Sarah W. Jamison, 31, TN;

Martha, 19; Eliza, 17; Cornelia, 13; Robert, 11;

Sarah J., 9; Louisa B., 7; Clark M., 5; James H., 3;

Margaret O., 1;

- Clark Moulton Jamison, was killed in the Battle of Kentucky during the Civil War.

Notes:

Planter, author, physician, and soldier Mr. Jamison left Platt Springs Academy in Lexington and at the age of 14 entered the sophomore class at South Carolina College. In his senior year he left the College and studied law for three years being admitted to the bar in 1830. He practiced his profession for two years when he married his first cousin, Elizabeth Rumph, and thereafter gave up the law and became a planter for the duration of his life. Yet, within this life span, he was introduced to the troubling influences of politics and to the broad belief in God and Church.

On May 2, 1835 he was listed as one of the original members of the Orangeburgh Presbyterian Church which was organized on that date. Along with him received by certificate were: Caroline Glover, Elizabeth Jamison, Elizabeth Rumph, Van de Vastine Jamison, M.D., Mary Jamison, Sanders Glover, Mary Dwight, and, interestingly, a number of slaves then belonging to many of the parishoners. In the following year, 1836, he was elected to the State House of Representatives, and so popular and of like opinion was he to his constituents that he served for the next twelve years. For much of this time he was chairman of the committee on military affairs and as such introduced a bill which established military schools in the state. During all of this time Mr. Jamison rose through the ranks of the South Carolina Cavalry becoming a Brigade General. In 1842 the Governor of South Carolina appointed Jamison a member of the board of visitors to these academies. Caught up in the political arena of the 1832 tariff, Jamison in 1844 voted with the minority against the resolutions declaring the 1842 tariff unconstitutional \(18\). In so doing he cut his own political throat which probably led to his retirement from politics in 1848.

During these last few years David Jamison pursued his chief interest-historical studies. His writings were written in the Southern Quarterly Review from 1843 to 1850 in which he scholarly researched modern European history. Much of his philosophy was bent on these findings along with the Wilmot Proviso \*\(19\) that matured his political observations and experiences. He argued that “slavery was the indispensable basis for a successful republic, and that the abolition campaign and the excesses of the Northern democracy made separation as necessary as it was desirable.”. An active campaigner he attended the Nashville Convention of 1850, and in the following years an active participant for the cause of South Carolina. Removing to Barnwell District he purchased a plantation there in 1859 and represented the citizens in the secession convention becoming the President of the Secession Convention December 17, 1860. A member of its executive board David Jamison advised and legalize the formalities of their history-making activities. A personal friend of Jefferson Davis he guided the course of history from personal commitment. With the convention over and war on the horizon, Jamison authored the publication, "Life and Times of Bertrand Du Guesclin", a two volume work on the Hundred Years' War, in 1864 published just before he died.

Notes:

Mr. Jemison left Monongalia county with his parents in 1856 and grew up on his parent's farm in Middleburne until he was old enough to support himself. In 1874 he purchased a tract of land from his father becoming a farmer along Muddy Creek. With the oil boom in the 1880's he actively sold and bought oil leases in the county selling enough of them to the oil companies that moved into the region. Some years before 1900 he and his son, Clarence Jemison, traveled to Oklahoma and Texas to work in the oil fields, returning around 1901 and again selling and buying up oil leases in Tyler county. Mrs. Jemison lived with her daughter, Elizabeth, when Alexander died in 1917 in Cisco, Texas. Mr. & Mrs. Jamison are buried at Middleburne Cemetery, Tyler co., WV[4].

Miss Engle was the daughter of Daniel W. and Catherine (Twyman) Engle. She was born in Tyler co., WV. Mr. Smith was from Allegheny co., NY.

(5) John Murray, b. 11/5/1863; m. 6/23/1891, Clara L. Wade;

Notes:

General Jenkins was with James Longstreet through most of the Civil War campaigns. He served with distinction and died at the Battle of the Wilderness in 1864. In an ironic twist of fate, Longstreet had rode down the planck road, setting his men when he met General Jenkins, an old comrade who he had not seen in months. With his troops in place along the Brock Road at Wilderness, VA., he and Jenkins rode down the dirt trail when Mahone's brigade, set up near the Brock fired upon the men mistaking them for Federal officers. Longstreet was shot through the throat, but lived, while General Jenkins was immediately killed with a shot to the chest.

Major Micah Jenkins, a grandson of David F. Jamison served in the Rough Rider Regiment in the Spanish-American War with Col. Theodore Roosevelt. While Roosevelt was President he honored Jenkins with a ceremonial sword for his conspicuous bravery at the Battle of San Juan Hill in Cuba. Later he was appointed a Federal Collector under the IRS for South Carolina. John M. Jenkins graduated from West Point and served through the Spanish-American War. He attained the rank of Major-General during World War I.

Notes:

Mr. Jamison grew up in Middle Island, WV and like his father worked in the oil business. Known as Bussy in Tyler county he also bought and sold oil and gas leases. For years he worked as a pumper for the oil companies in the Big Moses, Kidwell, and Klondike areas as late as 1934. In 1917 he traveled to Russia getting off at Murmansk, but was unable to do any oil drilling because of the ongoing revolution that was taking place. He immediately returned to Tyler county where he died.

In Tyler he purchased lots 1 and 4 on Fair street in Middleburne. In 1902 he built his house next to the Baptist Church. In 1907 he bought lot 29 on Main street, but later sold it to Lodge #86, the Knights of Pythias. When Mrs. Jamison died in 1913, the children went to live with her sister and brother-in-law, Francis and Blayne (Spencer) Hickman. Mr. Hickman was elected to the House of Delegates in the 1920's and lived in Charleston, WV until his death. He graduated from Bethany College.

Mr. Jones was the son of E. F. and Fay (Heighhold) Jones of Allegheny co., PA. Miss Engle was the daughter of Daniel W. and Catherine (Twyman) Engle. She was born in Tyler co., WV. Mr. Smith was from Allegheny co., NY.

It also gave rise to the Free Soil Party movement that led directly to the founding of the present day Republican Party. While the South agreed in part to Wilmot's support of annexing the Lone Star State, the South, unfortunately, missed grasping the true significance of the Proviso. With dawning horror, the South realized that the net effect of Squatter Sovereignty resulted with a Congress once again successfully leaving the issue of slavery unresolved until a territory was ready for statehood.
