DAVID JAMESON OF PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY, VIRGINIA

[38500-39299]

38500-1 DAVID JAMESON [James?], was born circa 1725, Virginia. He died in January of 1793/4 in Prince William co., VA. Mr. Jameson was married probably twice. One record indicates he married a Miss Pattey _____.

Notes:

David Jameson was no doubt born in Virginia. He may very possibly be the grandson of James Jameson, who emigrated 1680-83 from Scotland, and settled in Prince William co., VA. in the late 1600s. It is no doubt the same one who married a Sarah, possibly the one who died in 1716. When he arrived upon American shores he was greeted by Governor Culpeper, who was in office at the time, and given five guineas as a mark of Respect and Friendship. Mr. Jameson left Edinburgh, Scotland and a father who was independently wealthy and styled as a Gentleman. Apparently that wealth spilled over to David, who, himself, was a man of considerable wealth and station, having had some education, himself.

James Jameson may have first settled in St. Paul's Parish, Stafford co., VA., a county that forms the southern border of Prince William. Upon the records of Stafford county are the following:

- Sarah Jameson, died 1716, wife of James Jameson?
- William Jameson{Jemerson} m. 12/30/1725, St. Paul's, Elizabeth Dalbin. Two children are known:

Mary, b. 10/15/1726 & Jarvis, b. 4/26/1728.

- David Jameson{Jemerson} m. May 7, 1744, St. Paul's to Jane Sebastion.

He may have been married to Sarah Jameson who died in 1716 and had the son, William Jameson, as listed above. David Jameson has five children he named similarly: Jane, William, James, Elizabeth, and Sarah. While this is not conclusive, itself, the close proximity of location, ages, and Christian names screams for more information.

Mr. Jameson left a will probated January 4, 1794 in Prince William co. He left his plantation to his sons, a slave each to each daughter, plus two additional plantations, furniture, stock, and slaves for his wife, Pattey Jameson, who he left as executrix. The will was witnessed by William Monroe, Nathaniel Ralls, Enoch Reno, George Edwards, and William Ashmore.

Notes:

William Jameson, described as five foot ten, dark-complexed with grey eyes, came to southwest Kentucky with his family and his father's brother's family in 1822. About 1845, his uncle, Benedict Jameson, removed himself and family to Stewart co., TN., which bordered Callaway co., KY on the south. He was brought up in the farming tradition with little schooling and when nearing the age of 17 or so left home on a mule joining a wagon train in Missouri heading toward California. For some time he worked the gold fields of California, passing through Calpella, Mendocino county in 1858 where he was intercepted and placed on a jury there. No file claims have been unearthed in California, but he seems to have left California for a short time following the Eel River to Oregon before returning to California where he met up with Elijah Howell in Anderson Valley, Mendocino county, and worked for him for some time. Mr. Howell was born 1803, Va., died June 17, 1879. He married Margaret Moreland in 1851, She was born in 1830, Kentucky or North Carolina, and died in 1884, Ca. With Howell's help he obtain a small mountain claim on April 5, 1871 from Thomas E. Witherell for $150.00 before settling in nearby Redwood Valley in 1879. Mr. Jameson spent some time in the Napa and Sonoma counties before removing to Mendocino county where he met his wife, Nancy. On March 16, 1892 he purchased from Otis A. Tibbetts a homestead for $1212.75 in Redwood Valley which has remained in the family to the present time.

1. Mr. Alocious Jameson 's material supports strong argument that his father was James Jameson (38528). This information is, besides additional proof and facts, circumstantially augmented by the migration of Alocious and Benedict, his brother, in the same area west of the Tennessee River, in 1822. Both purchased tracts in the Jackson Purchase Grants at the same time and while Alocious removed to Callaway co., Ky., Benedict moved further south to Stewart co., TN., the county just south of Calloway county, Ky.
