A Researcher's
Digest

Welcome

The following newsletter is an open-source collection of records, documents, articles and other materials that will help you, I hope, to ascertain your Jameson roots. All materials found here come from published and non-published databases, books, research sites and my own investigations.

All citations will be provided with their original sources.

This is a free and open publication that works in conjunction with the Jameson Network, website, <http://www.jamesonnetwork.com/>, just click on Scott's Portal where you will find this database. Additional records can be discovered on the network including articles, DNA and so much more on Jameson along with researchers who are involved in their family histories around the world.

Highlights

Besides the fact that my laptop's hard drive crashed and all the major tasks about the house having to be done, it's been a good year overall. This issue has a few changes, good ones I think.

I've split up the 1718 Family Branches to include People, Places and Periods in order to provide some historical perspective. Also, since this is a good venue, I'm adding my ancestor, William Jamison, to People as a research vehicle. While I have discovered his wife's family, I still don't know where he ties in regarding locale & family.

Seventeen-Eighteen Scots

I've been so interested in the lives of the 1718 emigrants from Ulster I began a genealogy of as many of them as I could research, accumulating not just a few but hundreds of branches with interconnected blood lines. These family groups afford a perspective of travelers on the move flowing into Canada, the New England region, into the mid-Atlantic seaboard and into the southern reaches of Virginia and the Carolinas. From a few tiny islands in Europe to the vast expanse of the North American continent the Anglo-Saxon wave hit the shores and migrated west and kept on going.

What you will discover here are person reports, place descriptions and history of the nations that reflect the names and places of our family that emigrated to New England, specifically, and to the Eastern Seaboard, particularly. Any questions or comments please contact me at jamesonone@live.com.

SOME CHIT-CHAT

SIR RALPH JENNISON

Why Do They Insist?

Sir Jennison's history is rich and full, part of an active family plying the waters of the Atlantic, trading, exploring and sending their offspring to new and different lands. His lineage extends considerably back into time deep into England's past, however, my inclusion here is to provide a foundation on the family between his two sons, William and Robert, who came to the American colonies under the auspices of the Crown as businessmen and to add some descendant history as well. That I have seen my own family connected to this legacy in several lineages has impelled me to show why my branch should not be included here. The evidence should speak for itself.

Capt. Albion Bomboy Jameson was born Aug. 23, 1836, Port Carbon, Schuylkill, PA, died May 29, 1920, Washington D.C. and married Lavilla Hendershot on June 18, 1867, a son of Daniel Jamison and Judith Bomboy of Centre Township, PA. Civil War veteran and fought at the Battle of Antietam and the Battle of the Wilderness from which disabling wounds he re-enlisted and later served as a clerk in the War Department. Source: www.jamesonfamily.org/thebook.htm

Dale E. Jamison, born 1920 and died 2007, son of Owen Thomas Jamison of Virginia, was heir to his father's ranch in Quinter, Kansas which raised wheat crops and Percheron workhorses. In time Dale expanded his operation to include Hereford cattle in which both he and son, Gordon, researched and developed proven genetics for L1 cattle. By the 1980s the family had entered into national prominence and with significant purchases their ranch had reached the top of the industry. Jamison quarterhorses were also developed bred for ranch and the rodeo arena. Source: <http://jamisonranch.com/ranchhistory.html>

Margaret Storm Jameson, born January 8th, 1891 Whitby, Yorkshire, England and died September 30th, 1986, Cambridge, England, the daughter of Capt. William Storm Jameson. Attended the University of Leeds and received her Master's degree from King's College and went on to teach. She married Guy Chapman, another author. Her works included science fiction, autobiographies, and analytic criticisms in dramatic literature. A Labor party adherent she essentially stated that "crushed under the industrial slavery," the working class would bring about a new Renaissance. Source: Wikipedia; Spartacus Educational-<https://spartacus-educational.com/Wjameson.htm>

Goldie Jamison, was born Nov. 30, 1892, Salamanca, New York and died 1974, daughter of Jacob J. and Eliza D. Jamison, a Seneca Indian of the Heron Tribe from the Allegany Reservation in Western New York. She was known as Ah-Weh-Eyu, Pretty Flower, and worked for a period of time as a model for the Cattaraugus Cutlery Company of Little Valley, NY. She married about 1912, Charles Conklin, and they had several children. To the right is an old hand-colored postcard of Goldie Jamison Conklin. Source:

Early Jamesons

Throughout the 20th century and before this period all research had been done by driving to town halls and to various state and federal institutions that had gathered data through various means. With the advent of personal computers, information has accumulated incredibly quickly accelerating to such an extent that we hardly need to leave the confines of our homes. With this technology I can now develop early trees on our surname without having to travel; a benefit I enjoy providing for those who don't have the time.

Presented, are genealogies I've researched from various websites, though primarily from Scotland's People, Proni, and a number of others that contain databases of documents and listings from original archival repositories of which I have cited.

As with any research I provide all responsibility is mine for errors, mistakes and relationships.

Sir Ralph Jennison

Sir Jennison's history is rich and full, part of an active family plying the waters of the Atlantic, trading, exploring and sending their offspring to new and different lands. His lineage extends considerably back into time deep into England's past, however, my inclusion here is to provide a foundation on the family between his two sons, William and Robert, who came to the American colonies under the auspices of the Crown as businessmen and to add some descendant history as well.

That one would settle into the wild New England frontier and the other would pick up and leave to return to Colchester will enlighten those researchers who arguably believe them Jamesons and not otherwise in the pursuit of truth.

Generation 1

1. SIR RALPH¹ JENISON¹⁻² was born in 1537 in Newcastle Upon Tyne, Northumberland, England¹. He married Margaret Hunter. She was born in 1548 in Newcastle Upon Tyne, Northumberland, England¹.

Sir Ralph Jennison and Margaret Hunter had the following child:

2. I. ROBERT² JENISON²⁻⁶ was born in 1582 in Newcastle, Shropshire, England (Born in his father's home²). He died on Nov/06/1652 in Colchester, Essex, England^{2,4}. He married Elizabeth Favour. She was born about 1588 in England¹.

Generation 2

2. ROBERT² JENISON (Sir Ralph¹ Jennison)²⁻⁶ was born in 1582 in Newcastle, Shropshire, England (Born in his father's home²). He died on Nov/06/1652 in Colchester, Essex, England^{2,4}. He married Elizabeth Favour. She was born about 1588 in England¹.

Robert Jenison and Elizabeth Favour had the following children:

- i. WILLIAM³ JENISON⁷⁻¹⁵ was born in 1608 in Colchester, Essex, England^{12,14}. He died in 1657 (Age: 48¹⁴). William Jenison⁷⁻¹⁵ arrived in Salem, Essex, Massachusetts, USA in 1629^{7,14-15}. He departed in 1630 (Age: 21). He died in 1667 in Colchester, Essex, England¹²⁻¹³.

Notes for William Jenison:

This family from Colchester, England has always spelt the name Jenison or Jennison, however, since coming to the Colonies the surname has, as usual, seen a number of misspellings  which has led to confusion to a number of researchers. Many have incorrectly labeled them Jamison and Jameson and have added these people to their lineages failing to realize the differences this makes to their tree.

When he first chance to come over the Atlantic he appears as early as 1628 as a ship's captain and merchandiser. A few years older than his brother, Robert, William settled first in Charlestown then removed in 1630 to Watertown and admitted a Freeman in May of 1631. "August 23, 1634, Agreed by the confent of the Freeman, that there fhall be Chofen three perfons to be "indecipherable" the ordering of the civill affaires in the Towne One of them to ferve as Towne Clark, and fhall keep the Records and Acts of the Towne. The three chofen are William Jennifon, Brian Pembleton, John Eddie."(fn3,p1) . As an Ensign in 1630, he was made Captain in the following year at Charlestown and appointed one of four Commissioners in 1637 to handle small judicial cases. He was granted in the Third Division, Lot #25, sixty acres of land. On February 28th he was granted an additional ten acres on Lot 37 of the Plow lands at the Beverbroke Planes by the river. Again, June 26thm 1637 a grant of ten acres was provided him at the Remote or Westpine Meadows Lot #6. He was a member of the Honorable Artillery Company in 1638(he was granted 200 acres of land in the town of Sudbury for his service in the Pequod Wars(fn4,p117)*, Selectman in Watertown from 1635 to 1642, 1644 and a Representative from 1637 to 1642 and 1645. In 1636, as a Commander of one of the infantry companies he battled with the Pequod Indians at Black Island in revenge of the murder of Mr. John Oldham(fn1,p306,307). In 1634, during one of the bleakest winters the colonists had seen rations came up short. Capt Jennison sailed to Virginia returning to Boston with 5000 bushels of corn becoming a local hero(fn2, p.58). In 1645, he sold his home to Rev. John Knowles and sailed to Virginia before heading home to England in 1648(fn1,p.215).

On April 8, 1657, Captain William Jamison of Colchester, Old England, by his brother, Robert Jamison, conveyed to Edmund Rice 200 acres*, granted to him in 1638. This land is now located on the east side of Cochituate Lake in the town of Cochituate on the southwest side of Nonesuch Pond approximately ten miles from the lands he also owned in Watertown.

He never married and had no children.

His estate was probated in 1690 in Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA²⁷. He died on Jul/04/1690 in Watertown, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, USA²⁶.

Notes for Robert Jennison:

This family from Colchester, England has always spelt the name Jenison or Jennison, however, since coming to the Colonies the surname has, as usual, seen a number of misspellings which has led to confusion to a number of researchers. Many have incorrectly labeled them Jamison and Jameson and have added these people to their lineages failing to realize the differences this makes to their tree.

The younger brother of William Jenison and his sister, Elizabeth, he appears as early as 1630-31 in Charlestown and in Watertown as early as July 25th, 1636 when he was allotted in the Fifth Division, Lot #8 of 20 acres. June 26th of 1637, Mr. Jenison received a two acre lot #73 in the Remote or Westpine section of town. In April of 1637(fn1,p307), his first daughter, Elizabeth was born. Unlike William he was not quite the wanderlust and choose to settle and have a family. On November 27th, 1639, the town was not quite the wanderlust and choose to settle and have a family. On November 27th, 1639, the town ordered that the road laid out from Robert Jennison's and between the lots of John Bernard and Jeremiah Norcrosse with a half-acre parcel adjoining the river for a landing of Goods shall remain to the town's use forever(fn3,p5). He was admitted a Freeman in May of 1645(fn1,Ibid). "At ameting of the Select men the 8/4/1654 Robert Genefon and John Knap Complaining that Robert Daniell that hee Did not fence his pportion within their feild."(fn3,p37). Robert Jenison purchased and was given land by the Charles River by his brother, William, who then sailed on to Virginia, Bermuda and eventually to England where he died. Robert and his son, Samuel, Jennison used the land for agriculture, farming and landing of commodities which they sold to the locals. Samuel Jennison Jr. extended this by leasing the lands from the town in May of 1728 for £9 annually for four years in the Charles River(fn2,ps164,165).

His will was written September 15, 1688 and probated October 7, 1690(fn1,Ibid). He mentions daughter, Michal Warren, son-in-law, George Reed, son, Samuel, and grandsons, William and Robert Jenison.

Notes for Samuel Jenison II:

Samuel Jennison acquired considerable land in Watertown where he was born. In 1672(fn1-p371) appointed "hog reeves" and it goes without saying a strong and leading church member of the community. He was admitted Freeman October 11, 1682, served various posts in town from perambulator from 1680 to 1693, tithingman, '82-83, town clerk, 1691, Moderator in 1692, and Constable from 1693-95. As a deputy he advocated for Shubael Child who was temporarily declared insane and thrown into prison and was crippled completely when his feet froze in 1694.

He made his will in November of 1700 and proved in October of 1701. His wife, Judith, received the homestead and lands along with £60. His son, Samuel, received 1 acre of meadowland; son, William, of Sudbury, received 40 acres; and Robert the homestead and lands after her death; daughter, Judith Barnard, £6; daughter Rachel Barron, £8; to daughter, Grace Holden, £8; and lastly to daughter, Lydia £20; to grandchildren 5 shillings each(fn1,p372,373).

Generation 8

23. WILLIAM⁸ JENNISON (William⁷, Rev William⁶, Samuel⁵ Jr., Samuel⁴ Jenison II, Robert³, Robert² Jenison, Sir Ralph¹)¹⁵⁵⁻¹⁵⁶ was born on Aug/04/1757 in Mendon, Worcester, Massachusetts, USA (Age: 0¹⁵⁶). He died in 1843. He married Mary Vibert, daughter of Vibert, on Nov/19/1783 in Boston, Suffolk, Massachusetts, USA¹⁵⁵. She was born about 1763¹⁵⁷. She died on Apr/11/1853 in Boston, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA (Age: 90¹⁵⁷).

Notes for Mary Vibert:

Unless Mrs. Mary Jennison was married previous to William Jennison, then she was probably related to the Viberts in Boston, MA. The Viberts/Veberts/Vibburts, etc. are a people native to London, England. Some may have been Huguenots, possibly French in origin, having removed to England at an earlier time before sailing across the Atlantic to Canada and the American colonies. A birth record for her daughter, Sarah Gummer Jennison, may be named after a relative or possibly a younger sister, Sarah, who married April 3, 1793, Boston, James Gummer.

One such group, led by John and his wife, Joanne Williams Vibert, settled on Naushon Island, an island situated just north of Martha's Vineyard. This family then moved to Montville, New London, Connecticut and from there dispersed toward northern New England and New York. Smaller groups landed in Boston, MA. One of these, was Phillip Vibert and his wife, Jane, who he married in 1720. Phillip Vibert was born about 1700 and died in Boston in August of 1777. The couple had several children: Isaac, 1727-1777, a shipwright in Boston; Phillip Jr., b. 1722; a child, not named born and died in 1721; Thomas, b. 1728, married first, 1752, Boston, Mary Mallett and second, 1758, Mary Watson; Mary, b. 1724, Boston; another Mary, b. in Boston; and finally, Jane Vibert who married 1747, Boston, to Matthew Kennedy. Matthew Vibert, b.c. 1685 appears in Boston just prior to 1705, when he is listed marrying Sarah Fare, b.c. 1687. Only one child is known to have been born in Boston, Sarah, born 1706 and in 1730, married there to George Newell. Capt. Aaron Vibert had sailed down from Canada on the sloop, Susannah, in 1764 to Boston. Two years later, his wife, Mrs. Vibert, arrived in Boston. A John Veber/Vibert came to Boston, early, and settled in Charlemont, Franklin co., MA, though this man may be related to the New London Connecticut family.

William Jennison and Mary Vibert had the following children:

- i. CHARLES⁹ JENNISON was born in 1784.

- ii. WILLIAM JENNISON was born in 1795.
- iii. SARAH GUMMER JENNISON¹⁵⁸⁻¹⁵⁹ was born about 1799 in Boston, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA¹⁵⁸. She died on Sep/25/1884 in Quincy, Norfolk, Massachusetts, USA (Age: 85¹⁵⁸). She married Thomas Dunn on Dec/09/1838 in Boston, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA¹⁵⁸⁻¹⁵⁹.
- iv. BENJAMIN JENNISON.
- v. ISAAC W. JENNISON was born in 1802. He died in 1847 in Boston, Suffolk, Massachusetts, USA.
- vi. EBENEZER JENNISON was born in 1766. He died in 1843. Ebenezer Jennison was baptized on May/03/1767 in Milford, Worcester, Massachusetts, USA¹⁴⁷.
